

Travelling? Pack your patience!

by Karen Vandenberg

My friend Catherine who now lives in British Columbia and I wanted to go on a trip to celebrate 50 years of friendship. We decided a trip to Greece in October would be perfect! We would spend a few days in Athens, enjoy a cruise to some of the islands and then spend three days in Rhodes. It was going to be a memorable trip and it was, but for an unexpected reason.

We arrived in Athens October 3rd. Shortly after landing, my husband, Norm, began to feel unwell. He developed a pain in his side and had no appetite. Thinking it was the result of an overly long flight we decided to take it easy and get going early the next day. Unfortunately, he only got worse, had trouble sleeping and by the next day was vomiting as well as hiccupping uncontrollably. Although Norm was very reticent to seek medical attention, I finally convinced him to go to an emergency clinic.

I called Allianz Global to explain the situation and that we were going to a hospital. The lovely person on the other end of the line was supportive and began a case file for us. On October 7th, with the help of my friends, we got to Evangelismos Hospital (the Frommer's guide said they usually had English speaking staff).

The emergency doctor said he had “grave concerns” and sent Norm for some tests (X-ray and ultrasound). Within the hour we were told that my husband would need emergency abdominal surgery. I called Allianz to share this news and again, they expressed their concern and asked me to check in with them following the operation.

To make a very long story shorter, at 10:00 pm Norm had surgery removing 40 cm of necrotized (dead) small intestine due to an internal hernia. By 1:00 am he was out of surgery and moved to a ward with 3 other men. His bed was beside a large picture window and he had a view of an elementary school. This provided some distraction for us during recess time!

I began contacting family and Allianz, again, to let them know that the surgery had been successful (which we would learn later, saved his life). At 9:00 in the morning I called Transat to cancel our

Norwood Hospice receives RTO/ERO grant

We were very pleased to be able to present a cheque for $4,000 to Norwood Hospice as the recipients of the annual Service To Others grant. The house was generously donated by John Stewart and the community of Norwood is working hard to prepare the century home for its new job. Many folks have donated their time and expertise to get the work done. The money received from RTO/ERO will be used to help refurbish the bathroom which will be used by family members once the hospice is operational. Congratulations!

If you have a community project that might be able to utilize this grant money, please check out the RTO/ERO website for the criteria and application.

cruise and trip to Rhodes. I returned to our hotel to be told that it was fully booked and I had to vacate our room (we were supposed to be leaving for our cruise that day). While I was packing up our stuff, Catherine found a hotel for me within walking distance of the hospital. I got to the hotel, my friends left on the cruise and I walked over to the hospital.

Over the next 12 days I would arrive at the hospital between 7 and 8 am and we would walk around the floor. Our first stop along the hall was what we called the “Wonder Window”. It was almost always open, offering a gentle breeze of fresh air and a view of the outside to which my husband desperately wanted to return.

We also walked to the elevators (which we called “The Reception Area”) because lining the wall opposite the doors were chairs where we could sit while people came and left the floor, and in the common room (which we called “The Dance Hall”) we would walk large circles and figure eights.

We enjoyed being out of Norm’s room which he shared with five other men and their caregivers. It was the practice that all patients in the room had someone with him 24 hours a day. Although it was usually family members, there were agencies that could be hired to stay. During our time in the room, two of the other wives would communicate with us using hand gestures and our phones (translating words). They were friendly and helpful and a feeling of camaraderie developed as we were all there to help our family member which included routinely chasing pigeons that found their way into the room through an open door to the balcony. When Norm was finally discharged, there were hugs all round!

The surgeons would do rounds at least once, often twice a day. When they came in to the room, all the caregivers/family had to go out into the hall. At first, I found this frustrating because I wasn’t getting updates on Norm’s progress. After a couple of days (and messages from a friend of my sister’s who is Greek) I learned that I had to be more proactive and ask for information while they were on their way to the next room. I always got answers (in English) and started to feel more confident about the excellent care Norm was getting.

One afternoon, Norm and I had returned from a walk, when the doctors came in and while we were waiting in the hall a woman overheard me speaking. She began a conversation with me in English! She had moved to Athens from Iran when she was a few months old and was an elementary school teacher! She had family in London, Ontario and her brother had visited Canada

District 36 Merit Award presented at Crestwood

by Audrey Moore

Crestwood District Secondary School celebrated its 55th graduating class at Showplace, on Friday October 26, 2018. The RTO District 36 Merit Award was presented by Georgina Eldridge, a member of our Executive, who had taught some of the graduates in their earlier years at Kawartha Heights Elementary School. Georgina offered to personally attend the ceremony to offer RTO District 36 congratulations. Holly Astrom was the recipient, chosen by a committee of Crestwood teachers. We wish her well in all her future endeavours.

Peterborough District Membership profile

Remembering Peter Roach, former President of RTO/ERO District 36 Peterborough

by Audrey Moore

In 1975 Peter Roach was appointed Director of Education for the Peterborough Victoria Northumberland and Clarington Catholic District School Board. Peter worked well with both Rae Linton and Len Budden, the Directors of Education for the public school board. I attended many events where the Kawartha Pine Ridge District School Board and the PVNCCDSB worked together. Peter often addressed the gatherings, and I realized he was a man with a great sense of humour. Whenever he took over the podium to speak, with a twinkle in his eye, he would have the listeners chuckling and enjoying the information he presented. No matter how dry or intense it was or how tired and weary his audience was, he was able to keep their attention.

After retirement in 1992, he became the President of RTO/ERO District 36 Peterborough from 1995 to 1997. He attended many of our events and was always active and engaged with others. I was surprised when he qualified to attend our RTO D36 80 Plus Birthday Parties. When I was President of District 36, Mary Towns attained the age of 100 years. She was a teacher in the Catholic DSB and Peter of course knew her.

I asked Peter, if he would come along with Darlene Holyoake, 1stVP, and me to visit Fairhaven to present some flowers and a plaque to honour this milestone for her. He was happy to do this. It was amazing to watch as he chatted with her and recalled many interesting things that had happened during her career.

His contributions to education at local, provincial, national and international levels were many. Some of the local initiatives he was involved in were Junior Kindergarten and French Immersion, and the integration of students with Special Needs. He helped found Casa De Angelae, a home where young women with Special Needs are able to live as independently as possible.

He attended Peterborough Normal School in 1951, where he met and married his wife

Teresa. When he began teaching in a one room school in Toronto Township, he taught all grades and acted as the custodian. He was hired by the Peterborough Victoria Northumberland and Clarington Catholic District School Board as a Principal for St. Paul Elementary School in 1967. He was promoted to Assistant Superintendent or Assistant Director in 1969. In 1975 he took on the top job of Director for 18 years. Upon his retirement in 1992, the Central Administrative Building of the PVNCCDSB was renamed the Peter L. Roach Education Centre.

He and Teresa had four daughters, seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Even as Director, he was close to his teachers and attended many significant events for them and their families with Teresa. He died in August 2018 at 87 years old.

Peter lived a full and rewarding life, giving to the Peterborough Educational Community and beyond. It was an honour to be in his presence. He was a true gentleman.

Political advocacy activities raise RTO/ERO's profile as a trusted voice for seniors

RTO/ERO Board and Senior Staff pictured at Queen's Park

On October 24 RTO/ERO held its second annual advocacy day at Queen's Park. Board members attended and were recognized during Question Period and then hosted a networking lunch with MPPs.

Greetings and remarks at the event were provided by:

- Raymond Cho, minister for seniors and accessibility, Conservative Party of Ontario
- Joel Harden, NDP critic for seniors and accessibility
- John Fraser, interim leader, Ontario Liberal Party
- Mike Schreiner, leader, Green Party

We were pleased to meet 60 MPPs, doubling the attendance from last year. Check out the pictures of the event from our Facebook photo album. RTO/ERO will follow up with MPPs who did not attend and assist District PAC reps in planning meetings with their local MPP.

RTO/ERO Board members Martin Higgs and Jackie Aird with Peterborough MPP Dave Smith

On November 16, RTO/ERO board members held a one-day meeting with nine other national organizations who are leading advocates on seniors' issues. The purpose of the meeting was to converge on three key advocacy issues to highlight in the lead-up to the 2019 federal election campaign.

The meeting was highly successful, and a consensus emerged around three issues:

- National seniors issues
- Pharmacare
- Pension and income security

RTO/ERO will continue to play a leadership role in our Vibrant Voices campaign.

District 36 Breakfasts: continuing a great tradition

by Ceris Higgs

Every December RTO breakfast, I find myself thinking of Pan Lancaster and Ray Johnson. Those of us lucky enough to know these two RTO members will remember the energy they brought to District 36.

Ray won the Distinguished Member award provincially for his district work with RTO and for his community work with his church and organizations like the Alzheimer's Society.

Pan brought us many smiles with her quirky way and she shared that energetically with many seniors at the Shopper's Drug Store Seniors' Day. I know that brought her a lot of joy as well.

Why I think of them at Christmas has to do with the RTO breakfast. Both Ray and Pan founded the monthly breakfasts at the Holiday Inn. Pan looked after the decorations and had bins of monthly attractions which she used to put out on the tables the evening before we arrived.

Ray would keep us up to date with what was currently happening in the district and direct the process for giving out a small inexpensive gift to a couple of attendees.

At Christmas time, Pan would dress up in elf-like costume with fancy belled slippers to jingle all through the morning. I like to wear some kind of Christmas hat at the December breakfast to remember her.

These two people started a great tradition and it is important to our district's continuing history to keep it going. While inflation has impacted the under $10 meal we started with nearly 30 years ago, we still get a great deal and we have more choice now, with a buffet option.

RTO Breakfasts are times to get together with RTO friends to chat and start our day in a pleasant way. There is no meeting, no obligation to do or say anything; just a chance to socialize and stay current, to quietly honour two greats of our district who started something well worth keeping. I hope to see you there January 16, at the Holiday Inn.

My people skills are just fine. It's my tolerance to idiots that needs work.

I don't have gray hair. I have "wisdom high-lights". I'm just very wise.

The word "swims" upside-down is still "swims".

a couple of times. We had a lovely conversation sharing stories about education and our families. She was there to give her mother, who also chatted with us, a break from caring for her 92 year old father while waiting for a bed on another floor.

Every night I would walk from the hospital back to the hotel, check in with Allianz, informing them of the daily progress of Norm's recovery. I usually had to wait on hold for a while, but the people I spoke with were consistently kind, caring and supportive. It was almost like therapy for me...having someone speaking English and offering sympathy for our situation.

When Norm was finally discharged on October 19th, the hospital bill was paid in full by Allianz. They were concerned about us flying home and reviewed the discharge papers to ensure that Norm would be okay without medical support. A couple of days later we finally made it home where Norm continues to recover.

It was definitely not the trip we planned and events like this certainly change your perspective on life, however we are grateful for the excellent care Norm got and that we have an amazing insurance package!

Things I learned and am now sharing with you

The first Insurance company you call becomes your Primary Insurer and you must send all documents to them. Once that insurance has been exhausted, you can submit any left over claims to a secondary insurer (e.g.. Credit card)

Call your insurer frequently to keep them up to date. However, I had three different telephone operators tell me that Canada does not accept collect calls (at least from Greece) so my phone bill was added to my claim.

FedEx cannot deliver to a P.O. Box address. You need a street address where someone will be able to sign. (In case there is a postal issue and you are concerned about your claim information getting to the insurance company).

Most hernias are a result of scar tissue from previous surgeries. (The surgeon thought this hernia was probably from the appendectomy Norm had at the age of 10).

Tips for better travel

Make sure you have travel insurance. RTO/ERO Extended Health Insurance includes travel insurance for up to 93 days. Be sure you qualify with the 90-day stability clause.

Pack less to save time and money. Avoid waiting to check your bag and reduce baggage fees. Travelling as a couple or in a group? Save costs by coordinating it so that you each have just a carry-on and check one larger bag per two people.

Bring an extra camera battery so you don't miss out on a perfect shot.

Make and keep with you a photocopy of your passport and important documents in case you lose them.

Put electronics, medications and perhaps a change of clothing in your carry-on in case your baggage gets lost.

Hide some cash and a back-up credit card separately from your purse or wallet.

Alert your credit card companies of your travel plans to avoid having a hold put on your card while travelling.

RTO/ERO Membership extended to people still actively employed in education

There may be no such thing as a free lunch, but when it comes to free RTO/ERO membership, it's a different story!

We are excited to extend our offer of free membership to the education community for the duration of the individual's active employment. We encourage members of the education community to begin enjoying the benefits of RTO/ERO membership as soon as possible.

As well, RTO/ERO insurance plans are now open to any member 50+ who does not have benefits through their employer.

Please share this information with friends and colleagues who may be interested in these offers.

Do you have the write stuff?

Stories from and about members make District newsletters better.

Last January we began to feature articles from and about our members and these have been well received. We look to continue this feature in our newsletters and need people to contribute.

Examples of stories could be memories about life in Peterborough, activities and achievements since retiring, and exciting or interesting places our travelling members have visited.

If you have an idea for a story or know someone we should interview for an article, please let us know and we'll contact you and work with you to get your stories into print.

There are great stories out there among District 36 members.

Let's share them!

Social Isolation Awareness campaign continues to inspire

The first annual Social Isolation Awareness Month took place this October. The overwhelming engagement and positive feedback has inspired the RTO/ERO Foundation to make it an annual event. Over 650 people registered to receive weekly challenge emails and take action on the issue of social isolation among Canada's seniors.

In a post-campaign survey, the following actions were reported:

- 77% made connections with an older person
- 57% helped an older person with daily chores or tasks
- 55% learned more about social isolation.

Interest in the campaign has continued to grow, with 56 new sign-ups in November, bringing total registration to 707 and counting. In response, the campaign sign-up page will remain open to extend our efforts throughout the year.

Sign up now to receive more information on research, programming and tips to address and prevent social isolation.
